

Keep our 15 minutes free parking

In a rush to do a U turn on the scrapping of the 15 minute free parking in our High Streets, the Council has come up with a ludicrous scheme. There will be 5 minutes free parking with a 10 minute grace period before people get fined! Residents and businesses have said that the 5 minute parking will confuse people and will not encourage them to stop and shop. They are asking people to sign a petition to keep the 15 minute free parking.

Focus says: To change every sign in the borough from 15 minutes to 5 minutes is daft and will cost a fortune. We ask that the Council review its decision and keep the 15 minute free parking in our High Streets. If you agree, then please sign our petition below. There is also a Waltham Forest shopping survey you may like to log on to:

High Road/Dunedin Road - drug dealing

There have been reports of drug dealing on or around the junction of Leyton High Road and Dunedin Road.

Focus says:

Anyone seeing any incidents of this please report to the police on 020 8721 2037 or use 101.

Francis Road - Post-box update

The Royal Mail has written back to Focus saying that as Francis Road is less than half a mile from a post-box it does not warrant reinstating the post-box. However, they are investigating the mail delivery density of the area. If it is, in their jargon, more than 500 delivery points per box they would consider putting the post-box back. Focus will keep you updated.

Keep Our 15 Minutes Parking Petition

I/We the undersigned believe that the 15 minutes free parking encourages people to stop and shop in our High Streets. We therefore ask that the Council review its decision to reduce free parking to 5 minutes and to keep the 15 minute free parking in our High Streets

Stop Press - DISGRACEFUL! Councillors vote themselves more money

At a recent budget meeting which put up Council Tax, Councillors also voted to pay themselves a whacking 7 per cent rise in allowances. They even had the cheek to backdate the rise to last year as well. Waltham Forest taxpayers now fork out over £1million to pay for their councillors. At a time when the Council has cut £100 million from our services, our councillors want more! This is disgraceful.

On Thursday 5th May you will have three coloured ballot papers to vote for a London Mayor and the London Assembly

Caroline Pidgeon for a London that works for everyone.

“I want to be Mayor so I can do something, not so I can be something”

Lib Dem candidate for Mayor of London Caroline Pidgeon has a plan to make London better.

Caroline is the most experienced candidate standing, with eight years on the London Assembly, to deliver the change our city needs.

London deserves a candidate who actually cares about the issues and isn't just in it to further their Westminster careers.
